

CALL FOR APPLICATION:

Pathway to Junior Scientists Undergraduate Research Program (Fall Semester 2026)

An undergraduate research program sponsored by the National Health Institute, at Rutgers Health - New Jersey Medical School and Rutgers School of Arts & Sciences-Newark

Applications are now being accepted for the Pathway to Junior Scientists – an undergraduate research program. Successful applicants will have the opportunity to receive supervised research training and perform rigorous health-related research in a laboratory at Rutgers-New Jersey Medical School or the School of Arts & Sciences-Newark, NJ. Undergraduate students at Rutgers-Newark who are interested in pursuing careers in biomedical research, medicine, data science, and related disciplines are encouraged to apply.

The faculty members who will be participating in the semester of Fall, 2026 can be found in the link below. Identify one faculty member whose research interests you most and you would like to be considered to work with.

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/1Ffct6KI61PzsoNuwIPkxdQzyh45j1kS-/view?usp=sharing>

To apply:

1. Fill out the application form below. Use your Rutgers email address to sign in and apply:

The Pathway to Junior Scientists \(Fall 2026\) - Application Form – Fill out form

2. At the end of the application form, upload your CV (or resume) as a single PDF file named as: “First Name_Last Name.pdf”.

Your application will be reviewed by faculty members. If selected, you will be notified through an email for an interview by the matched faculty member.

3. Admitted students are required to complete a mandatory lab safety training by Rutgers REHS and will work in the faculty’s laboratory during the coming school semester.

Application deadline: August 15, 2026.

Questions? Please email:

Dr. Susan Seipel (saseipel@newark.rutgers.edu), Rutgers-Newark;

Ms. Jennifer Yaney: (jdalesan@njms.rutgers.edu), Rutgers-NJMS

Please help share and distribute the QR code with Rutgers Newark students.

The Pathway to Junior Scientists
(Fall 2026) - Application Form

